In our spiritual life it is good to learn to “Take a Nightly Spiritual Time-Out”. We are fallen human beings living in a fallen world. Our internal hard-drive keeps wanting to go back to the default setting of self-centeredness, which is just the opposite of loving one another as Jesus has loved us. Keeping to our battle plan takes constant attention and realignment. In sports, in the heat of the game a team can start deviating from their game-plan. When that happens a good coach calls time-out, brings the players over to the sidelines, and reminds them of the game-plan.

We need to do the same thing in our following of Christ. One practical way to take this kind of “spiritual time-out” or “examination of conscience” every day has a long tradition in the Catholic Church. It usually takes just a few minutes. You do it at night, before you go to bed. You start by reminding yourself of God's presence. Then you ask God to enlighten and guide your thoughts. And then, in an atmosphere of calm prayer and reflection, you think back over your behavior during the day's activities, talking about it with the Lord.

With the Holy Spirit's guidance, you begin to see patterns: which situations and relationships brought out your selfishness, where you had a chance to be more Christ-like and squandered it, where you didn't. At the end of the examination of conscience, you ask forgiveness for your sins and then identify a concrete way to improve the next day. Following Christ's battle plan is the path to true wisdom and lasting joy. This week, why not take a spiritual time-out each night, and see if that helps us follow Christ a little better?

On a different note, I would like to thank all the staff and volunteers who helped our confirmation candidates in their Retreat! Thanks also to all parents for allowing and accompanying your children in their faith journey.

Once again, Thank you all very much and Have a Blessed Sunday!

En nuestra vida espiritual es bueno aprender a “tomar un descanso espiritual nocturno”. Somos seres humanos caídos que vivimos en un mundo caído. Nuestro disco duro interno sigue queriendo volver a la configuración predeterminada del egocentrismo, que es justo lo opuesto a amarnos unos a otros como Jesús nos amó. Mantener nuestro plan de batalla requiere atención y realineamiento constantes. En los deportes, en el calor del partido un equipo puede empezar a desviarse de su plan de juego. Cuando eso sucede, un buen entrenador pide un tiempo muerto, lleva a los jugadores a la banca y les recuerda el plan de juego.

Necesitamos hacer lo mismo en nuestro seguimiento de Cristo. Una forma práctica de tomar este tipo de “pausa espiritual” o “examen de conciencia” todos los días tiene una larga tradición en la Iglesia Católica. Por lo general, sólo lleva unos minutos. Lo haces por la noche, antes de acostarte. Empiece por recordarse la presencia de Dios. Luego le pides a Dios que ilumine y guíe tus pensamientos. Y luego, en un ambiente de tranquila oración y reflexión, reflexionas sobre tu comportamiento durante las actividades del día, conversando con el Señor.

Con la guía del Espíritu Santo, comienzas a ver patrones: qué situaciones y relaciones sacaron a relucir tu egoísmo, dónde tuviste la oportunidad de ser más parecido a Cristo y la desperdiciaste, dónde no la desperdiciaste. Al final del examen de conciencia, pides perdón por tus pecados y luego identificas un camino concreto para mejorar al día siguiente. Seguir el plan de batalla de Cristo es el camino hacia la verdadera sabiduría y el gozo duradero. Esta semana, ¿por qué no tomarnos un tiempo espiritual cada noche y ver si eso nos ayuda a seguir un poco mejor a Cristo?

En una nota diferente, ¡me gustaría agradecer a todo el personal y los voluntarios que ayudaron a nuestros candidatos a la confirmación en su retiro! Gracias también a todos los padres por permitir y acompañar a sus hijos en su camino de fe.

Una vez más, muchas gracias a todos.

y ¡Que tengan un Bendecido Domingo!

“Family First” / “La Familia Primero”

by Fr. Gabriel Augustine, MF

Be a parent like Christ the Good Shepherd.

Recently we celebrated Good Shepherd Sunday. Jesus the Good Shepherd, tends and teaches his sheep with compassion. St. John Bosco said rather than using punishments to compel a behavior out of fear, parents need to form their children’s character through mentoring, modeling, and teaching with “reason, religion, and loving kindness”. Christ forgives us, teaches us what to do, and gives us the grace to do better next time. We help our kids to confront their feelings in a way that helps them feel loved even when they mess up. We correct our children not by shaming them but by loving them, comforting them, teaching them how to do better next time and give them structures of support that will help them succeed. The more we do this, the more we become like Christ the Good Shepherd and model that image of Christ to our kids.

Using Mom’s voice or Dad’s voice rather than gentler approach.

- Using these steps:
 1. Modelling instead of telling.
 2. Encouraging instead of shaming.
 3. Teaching instead of lecturing.
 4. Coaching instead of punishing.

Sé un padre como Cristo el Buen Pastor.

Recientemente celebramos el Domingo del Buen Pastor. Jesús el Buen Pastor, cuida y enseña a sus ovejas con compasión. San Juan Bosco dijo que en lugar de utilizar castigos para obligar a un comportamiento por miedo, los padres deben formar el carácter de sus hijos a través de tutorías, modelos y enseñanzas con “razón, religión y bondad amorosa”. Cristo nos perdona, nos enseña qué hacer y nos da la gracia para hacerlo mejor la próxima vez. Ayudamos a nuestros hijos a confrontar sus sentimientos de una manera que los ayude a sentirse amados incluso cuando cometen un error. Corregimos a nuestros hijos no avergonzándolos sino amándolos, consolándolos, enseñándoles cómo hacerlo mejor la próxima vez y brindándoles estructuras de apoyo que los ayudarán a tener éxito. Cuanto más hagamos esto, más nos pareceremos a Cristo el Buen Pastor y modelaremos esa imagen de Cristo a nuestros hijos.

Usar la voz de mamá o la voz de papá en lugar de un enfoque más amable.

- Usando estos pasos:
 1. Modelar en lugar de contar.
 2. Alentar en lugar de avergonzar.
 3. Enseñar en lugar de dar conferencias.
 4. Entrenar en lugar de castigar.
